

5 Days Bhutan Tour

Five days is the shortest itinerary that touches all three of Bhutan's classic western valleys - Paro, Thimphu, and Punakha - which makes it the sweet spot for travellers spending precious annual leave. After a first day among Paro's dzong and temples, you shift to the capital for its museums, markets, and giant golden Buddha, then day-trip over Dochula Pass - 108 chortens and a horizon of Himalayan snow peaks - to Punakha's riverside fortress, the most beautiful building in the kingdom. The finale is the Tiger's Nest hike, placed on your last full day so you're properly acclimatized. Choose this length if you want the greatest hits with no wasted day; choose six days if you'd rather sleep a night in Punakha's warm valley than visit it in a day.

After breakfast, drive to Punakha Valley via Dochula Pass (3,140m). We stop at the pass to admire the 108 memorial chortens, and if the weather is clear, you will enjoy spectacular views of the Himalayan ranges.

Upon reaching Punakha Valley, visit Chimi Lhakhang, also known as the Temple of Fertility, built by Lama Drukpa Kuenley (the Divine Madman) in the 15th century. Then visit Punakha Dzong, built in 1637 by Zhabdrung Ngawang Namgyal, beautifully situated at the confluence of the Pho Chu (Male River) and Mo Chu (Female River). For many years until the reign of the second king, it served as Bhutan's capital. The construction was foretold by Guru Rinpoche in the 8th century. The Zhabdrung ordered his architect, Zowe Palep, to sleep before a Buddha statue; in his dreams, the Zhabdrung took him to Zangtopelri (Paradise) and showed him Guru Rinpoche's palace. From this vision, the architect conceived the design, never committing it to paper. The Dzong was named Druk Pungthang Dechen Phodrang, meaning Palace of Great Happiness. Punakha remains the winter residence of the Chief Abbot (Je Khenpo), and King Jigme Dorji Wangchuk convened the first National Assembly here in 1952. After sightseeing, drive back to Thimphu. Dinner and overnight at the hotel.

Day 4: Thimphu to Paro & Tiger's Nest Hike

Thimphu to Paro | 3,120m | 5-6 hrs hike | 55 km + hike

After an early breakfast, drive from Thimphu back to Paro (approximately 1.5 hours). Then embark on an excursion to Tiger's Nest Monastery (Taktsang). The total distance is 7.4 km (4.5 miles) round trip and takes a minimum of 5 hours. The elevation at the starting point is 2,600m, and the monastery sits at 3,100m above sea level.

A 25-minute drive from the main town of Paro takes you to Satsam Chorten, where the trail begins. The path climbs through beautiful pine forests, with many trees festooned with Spanish moss and occasional groves of fluttering prayer flags. We stop for rest and refreshments at Taktsang Cafeteria, then continue until we see Tiger's Nest Monastery clearly within reach. The history dates back to the 8th century when Guru Rinpoche, a tantric master, flew to this place on the back of a flying tigress—said to be his Tibetan consort Yeshe Tsogyal—and meditated in a cave nearby. The temple was built in the 17th century by Penlop Gyaltsen Tenzin Rabgye. This incredible monastery clings to the edge of a sheer cliff that plunges 600 meters into the valley below.

After lunch, visit Kyichu Lhakhang, one of Bhutan's oldest Buddhist temples, built in 659 AD by Tibetan King Songtsen Gampo. In the evening, celebrate the journey with a farewell dinner in Paro. Overnight at the hotel.
